

About the Collaborative:

The Collaborative was created by Legislative Session. Governor Bill Richardson and the New Mexico State Legislature during the 2004 The Legislation allows several state agencies and resources involved in behavioral health prevention, treatment and recovery to work as one in an effort to improve mental health and substance abuse services in New Mexico. This cabinet-level group represents 15 state agencies and the Governor's office.

CEO Wayne Lindstrom, Ph.D., Director, Behavioral Health Services Division is responsible for turning the Collaborative's vision into reality in the lives of New Mexicans.

The vision of the Collaborative is to be a single statewide behavioral health delivery system in which funds are managed effectively and efficiently and to create an environment in which the support of recovery and development of resiliency is expected, mental health is promoted, the adverse effects of substance abuse and mental illness are prevented or reduced, and behavioral health consumers are assisted in participating fully in the lives of their communities.
